

Staff Communications Policy

Policy Statement

- 1.1. Wibli Wobli Nursery believes that good internal communication is one of the vital ingredients in making an organisation successful in achieving its goals. Research shows that effective communication within an organisation significantly improves morale and performance.
- 1.2. This Policy outlines the internal communications framework which Wibli Wobli Nursery have adopted, the principles and objectives which will underpin it, and the roles of staff and managers in establishing really effective internal communications within the organisation.
- 1.3. It is recognised that in many parts of the organisation, internal communications already works well, but we need to ensure that this is the case across the board and that there is it with staff on all relevant issues, together with the active encouragement of feedback and ideas from staff.
- 1.4. In this Policy, “internal communications” refers to formal communication with, and between, each and every employee of Wibli Wobli Nursery that relates to business matters.

Principles and Objectives

2.1. Principles:

Communications between management and staff will be:

- 2 way
- open and honest
- informative
- timely
- empowering
- proactive
- responsive to questions and feedback
- joined-up and consistent
- accessible to all

2.2. Objectives:

Through communications between staff, Wibli Wobli Nursery will:

- provide all staff with the information they need to carry out their jobs efficiently and effectively

- turn the organisation's agreed Values into reality by identifying and encouraging appropriate patterns of behaviour
- help achieve our Strategies by using communication identify actions needed
- encourage and use feedback and ideas from all staff
- encourage a sense of corporate identity and a willingness to engage with the company
- show that staff are valued
- provide clear channels for appropriate communication in an emergency

2.3. Outcomes:

It is Wibli Wobli Nursery's intention to create and maintain greater diversity within the organisation, with employees differing in gender, age, ethnicity, disabilities, sexual orientation and religion and belief. To create this we will provide opportunities for:

- progression within the organisation
- increased levels of knowledge, skill, understanding, education, through training and experience of various tasks
- increased level of engagement with all levels of the organisation

Methods of Communication

3.1. Wibli Wobli Nursery will ensure that communication methods are accessible, informative, relative and appropriate to all staff. In general terms we:

- will continue to identify the best and preferred methods of communications and resources needed to deliver the organisation's objectives and strategic plans as they develop and to receive employees' comments, views and ideas
- will ensure that the primary method of communication will be face-to-face with the appropriate persons - as this is consistently shown by research to be the most effective way of achieving openness and clarity in communication e.g. one to one meetings, team meetings, departmental meetings.
- will use electronic means of communication where appropriate encouraging responses on every occasion

Expectations and Responsibilities

4.1. As a member of staff, any employee can expect to be:

- provided with relevant information and kept informed of agreed developments
- consulted on issues relevant to their individual performance, work area and the wider organisation
- given the opportunity to raise questions or issues of concern relevant to their work
- questions will always be treated seriously and respectfully and will be answered immediately or within a reasonable period

4.2. Employees must:

- raise relevant questions or problems with their supervisor and questions will be treated seriously and respectfully
- attend meetings where requested or where this is not possible, arrange to be given feedback by a colleague or supervisor
- read relevant Wibli Wobli Nursery emails or notices

4.3. All room leaders must:

- talk to their staff about relevant issues and how such issues apply to their work area
- discuss whether proposals are “workable” or how they could be improved etc.
- ensure method used does not unnecessarily replace face to face communications in order that employees have an opportunity to discuss the issue and raise any relevant problems, concerns or recommendations
- empower staff by providing them with information to enable them to do their jobs as well as possible;
- treat questions from staff seriously and respectfully and respond, whether immediately or after further investigation, with an answer and explanation
- encourage networking by staff, both with staff in other areas of the organisation and with other stakeholders;
- raise any significant problems or issues of concern in their area (which cannot easily be resolved) with the nursery manager
- seek to be as informed as possible about the issues relevant to their area and staff
- attend relevant training relating to internal communications, if invited

4.4. The nursery manager must:

- support the room leaders, reporting to them in carrying out their responsibilities listed above including ensuring that they have all relevant information and that they are adequately trained where necessary
- hold regular meetings to discuss developments, plans and performance within their area/room, as well as wider organisational developments where relevant
- consult with them on all relevant proposed developments to ensure that they are workable
