

SETTLING IN POLICY

At Wibli Wobli Nursery we aim to support parents and other carers to help their children settle quickly and comfortably by considering the individual needs and circumstances of every child and their family. Our aim is for children to feel safe, stimulated, happy and secure within the nursery environment and to develop positive relationships with staff. We also aim for parents and carers to feel confident in their child's wellbeing and to remain active partners in their child's learning and development throughout their time at the nursery.

All our staff understand the importance of building strong attachments with children. They are trained to recognise the different stages of attachment and use this knowledge to support children and families during the settling-in process

We work in partnership with parents and carers to support children to settle into nursery by:

- Ensuring a member of the nursery team welcomes and supports the child and family during the settling-in process, tailoring care and support to meet individual needs.
- Assigning a key worker prior to, or shortly after, admission to the nursery. Where appropriate, another familiar member of staff may support settling-in sessions and ongoing transition arrangements.
- Gathering information about the child through nursery documentation, including "All About Me" forms, One Page Profiles, and discussions with parents and carers, to help staff understand the child's individual needs, interests, routines, and preferences.
- Sharing relevant information about the nursery, including policies, procedures, routines, and expectations.
- Encouraging families to visit the nursery before admission and, where appropriate, arranging home visits or alternative transition arrangements.
- Planning settling-in visits and introductory sessions that are flexible and responsive to the child's age, stage of development, temperament, and individual circumstances. Sessions are generally provided free of charge and may take place over a period agreed with the family.
- Supporting parents and children during introductory sessions while maintaining a calm and settled environment for all children.
- To minimise disruption to children's routines, maintain a calm and secure learning environment, and protect the safeguarding, privacy, and confidentiality of all children, parents and carers are not permitted to observe within the nursery outside of agreed settling-in sessions, organised stay-and-play sessions and nursery events.
- Maintaining regular communication with parents and carers throughout the settling-in period, providing updates on their child's progress and wellbeing.
- Working collaboratively with parents and carers when children require additional support to settle, developing individual plans where necessary.
- Encouraging gradual separation from parents or carers, where appropriate, to help children build confidence and security within the nursery environment.
- Ensuring children are familiar with more than one member of staff to support continuity of care.

- Reviewing key worker arrangements where appropriate to ensure children form secure attachments and receive the support they need.
- Respecting the circumstances of all families, including those who may not be able to attend settling sessions, and providing reassurance regarding their child's progress.
- Carefully considering a child's readiness before participating in outings or activities away from the nursery premises.

Monitoring and Review

The settling-in period is reviewed on an individual basis. Staff observe each child's wellbeing, involvement and progress and share this information with parents and carers regularly. Where appropriate, an entry assessment, progress review or parent discussion may be completed during the early weeks of attendance to evaluate how the child has settled and to identify any additional support required.
